Four Types of Lung NETs

- Typical Carcinoid
  - Less Aggressive
  - Well-differentiated
  - Low grade
  - Less likely to metastasize
  - Not associated with smoking

- Atypical Carcinoid

- Large Cell Neuroendocrine Tumor
  - More Aggressive
  - Poorly-differentiated
  - High grade
  - More likely to metastasize
  - Often associated with smoking

- Small Cell Lung Cancer

Find the NetWise podcast and more information about NETs at: netrf.org/podcast
©2020 Neuroendocrine Tumor Research Foundation, All Rights Reserved