

Confidentiality & Social Media Policy

2025 Margie and Robert E. Petersen NETRF Research Symposium

Purpose

To ensure that all participants respect the integrity and confidentiality of presented data while fostering healthy discussions and knowledge sharing at the 2025 NETRF Research Symposium.

Confidentiality

- Some sessions and/or conversations may include sensitive or unpublished information. Attendees should respect confidentiality and not disclose, photograph, or record any of these materials and/or conversations.
- If you are uncertain about the confidentiality of certain data or sessions, please ask the presenter or conference organizers before sharing.
- NETRF will record the sessions and share them on the NETRF website later. Presenters should not share confidential information in their presentations because NETRF cannot edit specific slides out of the posted videos.

Social Media Sharing

- Attendees are encouraged to share their general insights, topics, and enthusiasm about the conference on social media using #NETRFSymposium2025.
- Presenters should mark posters or oral presentations as confidential if they do not wish for them to be shared on social media.
- Attendees should refrain from posting detailed scientific data, slides, posters, or other presentation materials to social media if the presenter has requested confidentiality.

Respect for All Participants

- Please remain respectful, constructive, and professional in all online and offline communications regarding the conference.
- Harassment or offensive comments regarding the conference or its attendees will not be tolerated and may result in the offender's ban from future events.

Our goal is to facilitate the free exchange of ideas in a respectful, collaborative, and confidential environment. Let's work together to make the 2025 NETRF Research Symposium a success!
